DYNAMITING TRIAL NEARS CLOSE

Jury Verdict Alone Will Stand Between 44 Accused Men and Prison

GOVERNMENT WILL END ARGUMENT AT 4 O'CLOCK

Miller Bitterly Attacks Clancy and Declares He Should be Tried for Murder

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26.—Only a verdict of the jury will stand between forty-four accused members of the Ironworkers' Union and freedom or prison tonight, according to belief late this afternoon. Prosecutor Miller, finishing for the state announced that he will conclude his argument at 4 o'clock. Judge Anderson will then charge the jury. Two days delay is predicted before the verdict can come in.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26.—Renewing his argument, Miller denounced Defendants Morin and McCain, and declared that Defendants Anderson and Smith will impress no one with their "manufactured alibi." He declared that Butler had carried on a cowardly and villainous correspondence with John McNamara. He called Clancy, just what his associates call him, "that big fat stew Clancy." Continuing on Clancy he said:

"He was a member of the Ironworkers when thousands of dollars was paid illegally from the funds of the union to members of the dynamiting gang. He is one of the men responsible for the 'crime of the century,' and for dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works in Los Angeles. He is the man who told Mary Dye that the executive board had given John McNamara a certain sum monthly to spend as he saw fit, and who discussed the 'blowing to hell of the new Catholic Cathedral here.' Clancy gloried in helping plan the 'Times' explosion, and he gloried in coming to salt Lake later with the money and instructions to Jim McNamara, the murderer of twenty-one men. He is the man, I say, who should have been tried for murder with the McNamaras."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 26.—Announcement was made that Judge Anderson will instruct the jury in the dynamiting trials at 5 o'clock this afternoon, immediately after Prosecutor Miller concludes his address. Miller resumed the presentation of his argument this morning, detailing the evidence supporting to corroborate Orville McManis's testimony. The defense attorneys declared today that a thorough study of the subject of appeal convinces them that Judge Anderson cannot prevent an appeal to the United States supreme court.

PASSENGERS SAVED FROM SHIP-WRECK

Taken Off Turrialba, Stranded Off Sandy Hook, in Time for Christmas Dinner

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The fifty-seven passengers and members of the crew of the United Fruit Company's steamer Turrialba, which grounded on the Jersey coast near Atlantic City early Tuesday morning arrived safely in this city last night. They were brought here by the United States revenue cutter Seneca and were met at Pier 15, East River, by a throng of friends and relatives. Besides the passengers and crew, the cutter took off all of the baggage and a corps of customs inspectors expedited its examination so that no time was lost for Christmas dinner on shore.

All of the passengers told substantially the same story of the wreck and rescue, the feature of which was the excellent discipline of the crew, the orderly behavior of the passengers in general, their relief from a night of terror and prayers for relief when the Seneca hove in sight and their final transfer in lifeboats to the rescue ship. When they sailed away the sea about them was dotted with thousands of bunches of bananas, which were thrown overboard with hundreds of bags of coffee and coconuts, jettisoned in the hope that the tugs would be able to pull the vessel off the shoals at high tide.

Tugs today brought a portion of the crew of the stranded steamer Turrialba ashore. It is expected the ship will be floated tonight.

5. Suffragists Continue Their March to Albany

HUDSON, N. Y., Dec. 26.—The five suffragists remaining of the army of suffragists starting recently to walk from New York to Albany, left this morning in a heavy snow for Stockport, a few miles distant. Hereafter the daily walks will be shortened, although the roads are improving. "General" Jones, the leader, declares the army will walk from New York to Washington in February to be present at the inauguration and agitate for ballots for women.

U. S. AIRCRAFT LABORATORY

Taft Names Aero-dynamical Board to Consider its Location and Building

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—A long step in the direction of securing more scientific information for use in the construction of aircraft was taken when President Taft appointed a commission on aero-dynamical laboratory, of which Dr. R. S. Woodward, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, is named as chairman. The object of the commission, which was created upon the recommendation of Secretary Meyer, will be to report on the necessity or desirability for the establishment of a national aero-dynamical laboratory, its scope, organization, the most suitable location for it and the cost of its installation. In addition to Dr. Woodward the commission includes prominent scientists, engineers, government officials, army and navy officials and aero club officials.

The Girl Behind

You may talk about the valor of the man behind the gun, of his gallantry and coolness and the battles he has won. You may sing about the farmer as the man behind the hoe, and describe his crops and whiskers where the sportive zephyrs blow. You may prate of all the heroes who have stood so far behind that the lurking imp of danger couldn't keep them all in mind. Of the man behind the ledger and the man behind the plow, of the man behind the shovel or behind the breachy cow, of the man behind the aeroplane, the man behind the lock; but the girls behind this country have them distanced by a block. The girl behind the telephone who murmurs "Number, please," with a gentle modulation like the sigh of summer's breeze, the girl behind the register, who hands us out our change, the girl behind the needle, or behind the kitchen range, the girl behind the counter, keeping everything in place, and reeling off the endless yards of ribbon, cloth and lace—they're the "thin red line" of heroines who face without a dread the struggle for existence and the fight for daily bread. Cut out your blooming hero gaff about the man behind—take a wider range of vision, get these heroines in mind; for they wage as fierce a warfare in their battles fought and won, and they face it just as bravely as the man behind the gun.—Riverside Enterprise.

BRYAN PREDICTS CHRISTMAS BEST STRUGGLE FOR POWER IN THE CITY'S HISTORY

Both House and Senate Will be Involved in Committee Assignments War

DEMOCRATS TO BE ASKED TO PUT MEN ABOVE PARTY

Declares Progressive Democrats Will be in Majority in Senate Caucus

LINCOLN, Dec. 26.—The Democratic party will have another struggle in the senate and house over committee assignments, declares an editorial published today in W. J. Bryan's Commoner. The editorial also predicts that the party will be threatened with "seniority." The party will, the Commoner declares, be asked to put the ambition of individuals above party welfare. It further says: "The progressive Democrats will be in the majority in the senate caucus. Will they allow the reactionary minority to man the ship and allow length of service to outweigh sympathy with the progressive cause? If it were a personal matter, the new senators might prefer to yield to the old but when a man is acting in a representative capacity he is not at liberty to be courteous at the expense of his constituents."

OFFICIAL CITY SPANKER
Appleton, Wis., Will Name New Official For Carrying Out the Truancy Law

APPLETON, Wis., Dec. 26.—An official city sparker soon will be chosen for this city. Three clear-eyed men all the city's educators have pleaded that a stalwart man is needed to assist parents in curbing truants who refuse to obey fathers and mothers. The new officer will be obtained under the truancy ordinance. He will have authority to use the rod as well as moral suasion in making children go to school and behave while out of school. He will be expected first to investigate the home environment of truants. If parents are unable to correct a youngster he will administer corporal punishment when moral suasion fails.

PICTURESQUE ENGLISH
Noble Red Man Disgusted With Interpreter—"He Doesn't Get Me," He Said

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—A delegation of Indians, several of its members in picturesque dress, called upon President Taft at the White House.

One of the older chiefs started to talk with the President through an interpreter. He made a long speech, while the President waited expectantly to hear it repeated. At its conclusion the interpreter fidgeted, looked bewildered and said not a word to the President. The chief waited patiently a moment, gave a gloomy but dignified glance at the interpreter and then in English, which was surprisingly understandable, remarked to the President with a gesture toward the interpreter: "He doesn't get me." It was the same chief who stopped at the door of the executive office on his way out to don a pair of rubber overshoes to protect his moccasins.

STEAMER GOYAS AND TWO SCHOONERS ARE ASHORE

Many Fishing Boats on West Coast Missing—Violence of Storm on Increase

PLYMOUTH, England, Dec. 26.—Terrific gales are sweeping the British coast and a heavy loss of life and property is expected as a result. The Brazilian steamer Goyas and two schooners are reported ashore.

Tugs have been dispatched to aid the steamer Goyas. Its position is not known but it is believed to be dangerous. Attempts at communication with the Goyas are futile.

Many fishing boats are missing along the channel and the west coast. The storm is increasing in violence, and it is believed there is little hope that these will be saved.

Merchants Never Had a Better Holiday Trade Than That Just Closing

STORES MET WITH PEOPLE'S DEMANDS

Post Office Reports the Biggest Mails This Office Has Ever Handled.

This was the best Christmas season, from the standpoint of the business houses, that Santa Ana has ever had. The merchants are all well satisfied. The sales for the holiday trade averaged well above the best of previous years. The fact that tariff on citrus fruits may be reduced and that rain has been a scarce article up to the present seemed to be alike in that they did not deter anyone from entering into the Christmas spirit.

The Santa Ana stores drew from a larger circle than ever before. People of this county have learned that they can do better by themselves and as well by their friends by buying in this county instead of going to Los Angeles. Santa Ana stores were never better equipped for supplying the wants of people preparing for festivities and the exchanging of Christmas gifts.

The confectionery stores are an example of the increased holiday trade. They never had such a month in their history. The Santa Ana postoffice found the season the busiest in its history. The employees noted this not so much in sales of stamps, but in the quantity of mail handled, receiving and sending.

A sleet and snow storm is hampering the work of both armies but the Greeks are maintaining a bombardment of the fortifications. The fighting is believed to have begun yesterday. The result thus far is not reported.

TURKEY TO COUNTER THE PEACE PROPOSALS

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The expedition with which the Turkish government has decided to present counter peace proposals leads to the assumption that they will be as wide from what are likely to be the eventual terms of the peace treaty as were the demands of the allies, and there still is a prolonged process of bargaining to be gone through before the conference is ended.

Austria's failure to demobilize, however, is a greater source of disquiet to all concerned than the task of ar-

FIRES RAGING IN SAN DIEGO COUNTY

Strong Wind Blowing, Making it Impossible to Check the Flames at Present

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 26.—Fanned by a driving gale, a brush fire starting at 7 o'clock this morning at noon had burned over 2000 acres near the Little Landers Colony near San Ysidro, and is working toward the Government trail along the Mexican border. A dense smoke overhangs the country to the south. Rangers are patrolling. No ranch houses are reported destroyed.

KIOSK BLOWN UP
Explosion in Panama 15 Minutes After President Taft Had Passed by Spot

PANAMA, Dec. 26.—Much excitement was caused here last night by the blowing up of a kiosk in Central avenue near the railroad station, fifteen minutes after President Taft had passed the spot on his way to the Christmas ball in the National Theater. Nobody was killed and although the street was lined with people, only one person was injured. Several arrests were made. The Mayor and the reception committee upon hearing the explosion hurried from the ball-room to the scene.

GIFTS FOR BLIND ACTRESS
YONKERS, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Clara Morris, the retired actress, was deluged Christmas day with messages and gifts from theatrical folks and other friends to make her Christmas happy. Several pairs of turkeys have been promised from the State Game Commission for liberation in the foothills.

CALL FOR MEETING AT THE CITY HALL

The subject of a suitable and proper memorial for the perpetuation of the lesson taught by the sacrifice of Robert Squires having been brought to public attention, now that it may be crystallized into an active force, a public meeting of all citizens of Orange county who admire courage, respect true manhood, and applaud honest discharge of official duty, is called to be held at the City Hall in Santa Ana, on Friday, December 27, at 7:30 in the evening.

This meeting is to be a meeting of men and women to consider the sacred subject of "How can we as a public best preserve the memory and present the lesson taught by the devotion of a deceased citizen, whose actions in the hour of trial have made his memory and the lesson thereby taught worthy of commemoration?"

It is also for the purpose of exercising the public privilege of expressing humble appreciation of the fact that we live in a land where men lay down their lives for the virtue of womankind, and sacrifice their all on the altar of law and order.

CORN FLAKES COMPANY IS SUED

Government Will Attempt to Remove Ban of Company on Cutting of Prices

KELLOGGS AND PARTNER ARE MADE DEFENDANTS

If Suit is Successful it Will Aid in Lowering the High Cost of Living

DETROIT, Dec. 26.—The Government has entered suit against the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flakes Company, William and Wilfred Kellogg and Andrew Ross, attacking the alleged plan whereby the Kelloggs exacted agreement from the jobbers and retailers to not sell the corn flakes for less than a specified price under penalty of the forfeiture of their selling rights.

It is alleged the company used a recent Supreme Court patent monopoly decision to patent a carton in which the product was sold, threatening the jobbers with an "infringement of patent" if undersold. The Government alleges this constitutes an attempt to evade the Sherman law and form a monopoly.

If the Government's contention is sustained it will enable the Department of Justice to attack the cost of living by forcing the manufacturers of staple to remove all restrictions on cut-rate sales from their products.

POET WHITTIER'S OLD HOME PARTLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

STEEL TRUST WILL HAVE STRONG RIVAL

Australian Company Will Build $5,000,000 Plant Near Newcastle—Plenty of Capital

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Among the interesting things contained in a report from American Consul General John P. Bray at Sydney, N. S. W., is the information that a formidable rival to the American Steel Trust is about to be formed in Australia. A steel-making plant to cost $5,000,000 is to be built near Newcastle and the mills will be extended as the needs of the country demand. Mr. Bray declares in his report that unlimited money is back of the scheme and that the company, which has expended $50,000 in preliminary work, is spending money lavishly in every direction.

WILL IMPROVE WATER PLANT

Fullerton Company Going on Regardless of Fact City
Has Voted Bonds

FULLERTON, Dec. 26.—Arrangements have been completed by which E. C. Sterling of Los Angeles takes over the controlling interest of the Fullerton Domestic Water Company. The property is valued at about $55,000. Mr. Sterling says he has arranged with Torrance, Marshall and Company of Los Angeles, to finance the company under the new management and that the water plant will be put in first-class condition throughout the city; a large cement reservoir will be built or steel tanks erected; new wells will be drilled, and the main distributing wooden pipes will be replaced by heavy iron pipes. Mr. Sterling has employed H. M. Haver to act as chief engineer, and the improvements will be under his supervision. It is said the new owners will develop very extensively the property here, notwithstanding the fact that the city has just voted $80,000 in bonds for a municipal system and has commenced work on the water wells.

bridge. Both he and his companion tumbled out of the car unhurt. It was all done so quickly that neither man was able to tell how he got out. Nor do they know how the accident happened, beyond the fact that they were interested in conversation when the car commenced going up sideways. The accident gave one more fine illustration of the fact that the narrower than the road bridges in the county are exceedingly dangerous, plus the fact that it is dangerous to let conversation take precedence over watchfulness when one is at the steering wheel. The bridge was blocked for upwards of three-quarters of an hour and probably have remained so all night but for the fact that a born general in the person of Henry Schaffert of Orange arrived on the scene in his big car. About twenty other cars had come up to the wreck ahead of him and their occupants were all out assisting and directing endeavors to get the overturned car righted. General Schaffert sized the situation up for a while and then with real Bismarckian diplomacy took hold of the job, with the result that everybody else backed off and let him go to it. He mustered the small but ever-increasing army that the arriving machines brought up, and in less than five minutes the wreck was on its wheels and pushed off the bridge. Damage to the car was found to be comparatively small, a bent front axle being the worst feature.

SHE CHANGED HER MIND FREQUENTLY

Fullerton Tribune: A man and his wife had some differences at Brea the past week and the wife called Sheriff Rudbeck to Fullerton at 9 o'clock at night. City Marshal French got the justice out and a complaint was filed against the husband, but when the officer reached the wells the man had disappeared. The woman declared she would back up the complaint and seemed anxious to have hubby arrested. A day or two later French arrested the man in Los Angeles and then the woman said she would not testify against her husband. The only thing French could do was to let the man loose. It is said the woman has again changed her mind and wants to have her husband arrested a second time. It may be that no one will work overtime in an attempt to run the man down again.

RECALLS OLD SEA TRAGEDY

Member of Bennington Crew
Answers Last Roll
Call

Orange News: The passing of a naval veteran, survivor of the terrible Bennington tragedy of San Diego harbor, and a peculiar figure of local prominence, was an occurrence of this morning with the death of George Tolley at his residence here. For some years since his retirement as a sailor, forced by the awful explosion on the U. S. cruiser Bennington, in which forty-four men were killed, and which left him a nervous wreck, almost fatally scalded by escaping steam, George Tolley has made his home here. He has been a quiet, hermit-like character, and little is known of him beyond the fact that he served about 12 years in the navy and was a head gunner on the Bennington at the time of the accident, which destroyed his health. He was somewhat below middle age, and was a Mason of good standing. That organization has been in charge of details relating to his burial. He was confined to his bed by illness—only a day, though his condition for some weeks was rapidly declining. The remains are being held at D. A. Blank's mortuary awaiting disposal. A brother of the dead man is in the U. S. army and a sister lives in New York. The latter has been communicated with and the body may be sent East for burial.

PIPE NATURAL GAS TO TOWN OF BREA

BREA, Dec. 26.—Natural gas will be piped from the Birch wells to Brea as soon as the Birch Oil Company can secure a franchise from the board of supervisors of Orange county. The gas will be carried in a four-inch pipe line to Brea, where it will be distributed through two-inch pipe lines to the residences and stores. Fifty-five persons have signed with the company to use the gas. It will be sold at a flat rate of $2.50 a month for heating, lighting and cooking purposes. There will be no meters. Millions of cubic feet of gas goes to waste in the Fullerton field annually, enough to supply many towns.

The exterior metal of the rifle is somewhat rusty and the stock a little loose.

You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months—Don't forget the children.—Advertisement.

ALUMNI LOST, SCORE 12 TO 0

During Most of the Game ex-Stars Played Present-Day Stars to Standstill

In a football game yesterday between a team made up of players of this year's high school squad and a team of ex-players of the high school, the former team won by a score of 12 to 0.

A lively bunch of rooters was out, and the alumni backers were not to be outdone by the "kids," in enthusiasm at least.

The high school team, playing without the auspices of the school, may have been over-confident, and to many of the spectators it looked as though the ex-stars had a little on them in straight old football.

Eddie Reeves was captain of the Has-Beens, as they were dubbed by a good many. When this fast little fellow has charge of a team it is far from a bunch of has-beens. The alumni aggregation that gave the local high school stars a great surprise had but one signal practice. Had they had a week of solid practice the result might have been different.

The high school lads although they have broken practice showed that old smooth machine work they were accustomed to all the way through the season.

Everybody knows the kind of game that those two tackles, Holzgrafe and Selp, can put up, and they showed yesterday that they had not gone back for lack of training. "Spud" Morrison as half was all time playing that steady game that he was noted for. For the alumni, Clair Burkett and Walt Reeves both held down the wing positions in great style, stopping the fast end runs of the high school time and again.

In fact all the alumni played good games. Eddie Reeves was no doubt the star of the game.

The Game
The first half was a battle royal, the ball saving back and forth with the advantage on the side of the alumni. They got the ball on the high school ten-yard line but time was called before they could put their man across.

The high school made its first score when Robinson captured a forward pass on the forty-yard line and crossed the line for a touchdown. Morrison failed to kick a goal owing to the wind. This was in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter big Selp in a tackle-around play made a 25-yard run to a touchdown in the corner of the field. Score, 12 to 0.

CAMPAIGNERS POLLING CITY

Twenty Young Men Employed by Committee to Get Information for Use Saturday

Today twenty young men are polling the city under the direction of the Pro-Charter Campaign committee, gathering reports for use on election day, which is Saturday of this week.

Two of the young men were assigned to each precinct. They are going from house to house, asking for information as to whether the voters are for or against the charter.

One report is that a large number state that they are undecided.

Those making the poll carry with them dogtags signed "Pro-Charter Campaign Committee," showing that the poll is being made specifically for that committee.

Charles Rumsey of 513 South Main street stated to the Register this morning that someone came to his house and asked whether he was for or against the charter. He asked who was making the poll, and he says the reply was that the "city is doing it."

As a matter of fact, the city has nothing to do with any poll that is being taken.

FAILURE TO STIR MILK BEFORE SALE CAME RATHER HIGH

ORANGE, Dec. 26.—A. G. Houghton, proprietor of a restaurant, today paid a fine of $25 to Justice Fullerton, after pleading guilty to a charge of violating the pure food law. Houghton's offense consisted of a failure to stir a can of milk before drawing from it a glass of milk served with a meal.

A short time ago a state pure food inspector visited the local restaurants and gave warning that milk sold to customers must contain not less than three per cent butter fat. He explained that milk purchased by the restaurant man might be of proper percentage, but unless the can is stirred up before a glass is taken from it, that particular glass might contain less than the proper percentage of butter fat.

Later the inspector went to Houghton's restaurant and bought a glass of milk. This milk was taken away by the inspector and analyzed, and upon that analysis a complaint was sworn to against Houghton, who pleaded guilty to the charge and was given the minimum fine.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect kidney backache, urinary troubles often follow. Act in time by curing the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weakened kidneys.

Many people in this locality recommend them.

Here's one case: Mrs. H. Schroeder, 435 S. Orange St., Orange, Cal., says: "I suffered so severely from kidney disease that I really did not expect to ever get much relief. I had headaches and pains in my back and finally my hearing became affected. I thought it would be well to try Doan's Kidney Pills, as I had heard them highly recommended and I procured a box. I used them as directed and I received great relief. I am still an advocate of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have used them on several occasions since 1907 and they have never failed to give prompt and thorough relief from kidney difficulties."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

PEOPLE OF TULARE COUNTY FIGHTING FOR POPULAR ROUTING

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 26.—Governor Johnson was informed by the East Side Road Association at a conference Monday in Sacramento that the property owners and electors of the foothills propose to appeal their case to the authorities until the State highway through Tulare county is located where the people want it. This statement was made at a conference between the governor and a committee of taxpayers of Kings and Tulare counties who presented to the chief executive a petition signed by upward of 10,000 names, in which he was requested to take such action as will result in the official routing of the State road through Hanford, Visalia and the orange grove district.

TAFT ON WAY HOME WITH GOETALS AND GENERAL BARRY

PANAMA, Dec. 26.—President Taft, with Colonel Goethals and General Barry start for the United States tonight. It is rumored General Barry will be the new chief of staff of the army. Colonel Goethals, it is reported, is going to Washington to discuss further plans to make him civil governor of the canal zone. The President spent the night as Colonel Goethals' guest at Culebra.

DANDRUFF CAUSES FALLING HAIR—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save Your Hair! Beautify It! Invigorate Your Scalp! Danderine Grows Hair and We Can Prove it

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.—Advertisement.

Booster's Impressions Of Homeward Journey

New Orleans, La., Dec. 12, 1912.

A few hours respite and needed rest brings on a fresh attack of the "wanderlust" and I am off for the old French burying grounds. Their method of interment was much the same as ours, except in the matter of excavation. Here the coffin is placed on top of the ground and covered over with a foot or so of loose earth. The tears of sorrow shed over loved ones thus put to rest, were none the less bitter, and the heart aches just as tenderly, as though the sound of the clogs on the coffin lid were the last sad reminders of a separation lasting through an eternity of years. Here have been planted many members of the French nobility, and here they have lain for more than 200 years, and have doubtless enjoyed the same propinquity of fellowship as if they had been tucked away in a marble vault.

In the Louisiana museum I was shown some specimens of an old rice pike, made of cypress, and still in a perfect state of preservation, and which had done service for 134 years. I walked over to the old French fortress, and gazed out in the direction from whence came Pakenham, and his army, the flower of old England's military reserve, and imagined I could feel the tense strung nerves of the undisciplined troops behind the cotton bales, when they were admonished to withhold their fire until they could see the white of the enemy's eye. A section of the rampart is still standing. The old walls, hoary with moss, and overgrown with ivy and myrtle look the centuries they have stood. They laugh to scorn the ravages of time. Even the desecrating hand of the relic hunter has paid them due respect. Here one might spend eons of time searching through the archives of a dead, and almost forgotten past, and find some item of especial interest at each toss of the dice.

In the center of "Lee Circle" has been erected a beautiful corinthian marble shaft, 80 feet in height, and surmounting the shaft stands a life size statue of the great commander. With arms folded across the chest, and face looking as benign and complacent as though he had not seen a care, or a worry, one can not help but admire this splendid specimen of His handiwork. There is no hint on the facial expression of a Gettysburg or an Appomattox.

Over on the quay I see great oyster fleets unloading. Here are the succulent bivalves piled up like coal in the shipping sheds. They are brought in from the fishing grounds in "bar-laps," much as we ship spuds to the local market. I regretted not having my rod and reel, but an old weather-beaten "tar" told me the "fishing" was done by machinery, great steel pointed fingers being used to lift the oyster gently from his bed. I saw long lines of men, mostly Italians, sitting squat on a low stool, deftly and swiftly removing the edible part, making it ready for the "Blue Point" cannery. Next, I rambled aimlessly through the old French market, typical of those days of old, when "Knights were bold, and Barons held full sway," but now largely owned and operated by foul smelling Negroes. I bought a dozen big oysters from the 4 Bayou breeding grounds, and parted with seven pennies for the privilege. I can buy—or could I had the "dinero"—a dozen bananas, just arrived from the "Islands" or South America, for 5 cents, and no questions asked. Here I saw lima and blackeye beans with "Orange County" printed on the sack, and you can hardly imagine how this old "ticket" wobbled when I saw the familiar name. This old "market" is not only interesting but is historic, and may ramble for hours among a labyrinth of fruits and vegetables halting from almost every nook and cranny of the globe without wearying of the novelty.

From a historical point, I believe the old St. Louis Hotel has more of interest to offer than any other place in this quaintest of quaint towns. The building was erected in 1836 at a cost of one and a half million dollars, and at the time of its inauguration was the most costly equipped hostelry in America. Royalty of many nations, and statesmen of wide renown were banqueted in its parlors. It is said that Henry Clay was once entertained here at a feast costing $20,000. The names of General Phil Sheridan, Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, William McKinley, Governor of Ohio, and General Bulerger of the French army, are distinguished names found on the roster. Under the dome, on the ground floor, in antebellum days was held the slave marts of the south, and here many cruel masters used the lash unsparingly to make an aged and care-worn slave appear to best advantage. I stood on the "block" and tried to feel the sensations, but the trick was too tame. I went out to the old prison where the slaves were confined, and the place looked dark and damp. The "iron safe," where "bills of sale" were stored for safety, stands with doors ajar, being slowly eaten up with rust. The state bought the building in the early seventies, and used it as a state house until the capital was moved to Baton Rouge. The "round" room originally built for a ballroom, was used for legislative sittings, and it was here the constitution of the state was framed, after the reconstruction period. In this room also, was signed the treaties from France to Spain, and again from Spain to France, and later, from France to the United States, ceding that tract of land known in history as the "Louisiana purchase," a treaty whereby the U. S. came into possession of a strip of land larger in area than the original colonies, and for which we paid about 2½ cents an acre. I climbed the "spiral" stairway, very much as many another distinguished citizen has done, and appended my "John Hancock" to the register, and awaited patiently to be assigned a room.

My first wakeful hours in New Orleans are not pleasant ones. Outside my window I can hear the rain drip drearily and the wind murmurs a doleful tune through the latticed shutters. My ears are tortured with the unmelodious lay of an Italian oyster vender as he cries his wares for sale. The wet asphalt streets are narrow and dark, and look not at all inviting. The "cling-clang, cling-clang" of the cathedral chiming invite me to early vespers, but I am not tempted. My sins rest lightly on my conscience, and I go not. A band of traveling musicians pass up the street, but the music, instead of having a "melody of charms" sounded to me like a band of tomcats, serenading on the backyard fence. All of the streets in New Orleans, except Canal street, are very narrow, allowing room for only one street car track. Thus, all the cars on Royal street run in one direction, and on the next street they go the opposite way.

Yours truly,
D. W. McDANNALD.

INDIVIDUALISM.

Individualism and aristocracy are doomed. The commonwealth and the new democracy are coming into their own. We must develop a social consciousness and create a social conscience—some while labor cries for unionism, the church for unity. And we are beginning to realize that Christianized labor and democratized Christianity could together not only conquer the continent, but could win the world for justice, for righteousness and peace.—Bishop McCormick.

WORTH-WHILE ECONOMY

The suggestion of the Register, that an effort be made to have only one new judge of the Superior Court provided for both Riverside and Orange counties, has met with much approval. As pointed out by several of the most intelligent and influential men in the county, the proposition is unassailable from either an economic or a common-sense point of view; and the hope and belief are generally expressed that no insurmountable legal obstacles will prevent legislation to that effect.

It is certain that Riverside county is going to ask for an additional judge, and it is equally certain that she needs relief for her congested court calendar. Figures were published in the Riverside Press of last Tuesday showing a tremendous increase of business in the Riverside County Superior Court during the past few years—in fact a steady and rapid increase ever since the county was organized.

It seems quite certain, however, if both Riverside County and Orange County could get along fairly well up to the present time with one judge each, that the requirements of both counties would be fully met at this time—and for the future, at least until the next session of the legislature, by having one additional judge provided to divide his time between the two counties.

This would effect a saving for the treasuries of both counties and for the state treasury which would be well worth while just now when we are at such heavy expense for good roads, county farm and hospital, new schools and other necessary improvements.

WHEN STOCKS MAY BE BOUGHT

The investigation of Wall street methods, now proceeding, may or may not lead to a real clean-up. But if this show-down should persuade some people to abstain from a game which they are as well qualified to play as toddlers children on a foot ball field, this "quizz" will have been well worth while.

The following is a good general rule: Remember that when a Wall street stock is advancing in price, the chances are better than even that the people who know its real condition are simply playing a skillful advertising game to sell out to suckers.

To all broad rules there are of course exceptions. A man who has capital not usable in his business may possibly find it profitable to make a study of stock market conditions. The majority who do so would have done better to lock their money up in standard bonds. Still, one may admit that some men are so constituted that they can safely invest in certain classes of stocks.

Here are some good rules for all who buy stocks who have not had at least semi-professional training in the investment business:

- 1.—Never buy a stock that has not paid dividends at least five consecutive years.
- 2.—Never buy a stock without examining an authoritative tabulation of its income account for the past year, and unless its income account shows a liberal margin earned above dividend requirements.
- 3.—Never buy a stock unless within a year it has fallen in value at least 10 per cent, without such a fall in its earnings as threatens its ability to pay its regular dividend.

People without business training, particularly women, should never buy stocks under any circumstances, except on the advice of some trained investor who is personally interested in their welfare.

If these rules were generally observed, thousands of stores and factories would be employing labor and distributing prosperity, which now have gone under the hammer of the auctioneer, or whose meager bones have been picked by the hungry debtors of the bankruptcy court.

MR. SHAW PRESENTS HIS VIEWS ON THE PLAN OF ABATING CITY ASSESSOR

Editor Register: Unless I am entirely wrong in my conclusions, in which case I shall be glad to be corrected, the plan of abolishing the office of city assessor, as advocated in the proposed new charter, is wrong and would result in an increase of about $5000 per annum in our city taxes. There is a reason for most things in this world, and there was a reason for creating this office in Santa Ana, as well as in every other city in Southern California, namely: To enable the executive officers to raise enough money for the city's needs without paying an increased state and county tax.

Deducting the corporation, or operative, assessments under Amendment No. 1, the valuation of Santa Ana, as placed by the city and county assessors at the present time, is as follows:

Valuation by City Assessor

Vegety $6,417,800

Valuation by County Assessor

Sleeper 5,779,675

Excess of city assessment

over county $ 638,125

Now, upon the city assessment

we pay city taxes only, the special school, state and county taxes being levied on the county assessment. The city assessment, therefore, is based entirely upon the amount of money needed by the city, which would in all probability be increased rather than diminished under the new charter.

Therefore, if we should abolish the office of city assessor, and have the county assessor make but one assessment, in the interest of "economy," it is apparent he would have to raise his present assessment $638,

125 to give the city of Santa Ana the same amount of money it now receives, and absolutely requires; and on this increase we should also have to pay the state and county rate of $1.05, which amounts to $6,700.31, which we now escape entirely. In addition to this, the advocates of the plan figure we should have to pay the county officials $385 for doing this work, which, added to the extra tax mentioned, makes a total of $7,085.31, which we should have to pay over the present method.

To offset this we would save the salary of the city assessor and his deputies, which is $1680, and the stationery, tax receipts, books and all supplies of the office, which is $250 more, or a total saving of $2030 per annum. The summary, then, would be as follows, which appears to be the minimum of the extra expense:

Increased taxation from state and county tax $7,085.31

Saving by abolishing city as-essor 2,030.00

Net increase to taxpayers by the economy $5,055.31

This, as before stated, seems to be the minimum, as really we should also

1.45 on the increase of the county as-essor's valuation also, in which case the amount would be more than doubled. I have not done this, for the reason that the school tax was formerly collected by the city and might be so arranged again. This matter looks plain enough to me, but I do not think it has been so considered by our citizens generally.

Very respectfully,

LINN L. SHAW.

HEAD PRESENTS ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASSING CHARTER

Editor Register:—In Monday's Register was published a statement in which it was attempted to show that an increase in the annual expense of the city government of Santa Ana would lessen the city's annual expenditures. The statement was made that the adoption of the proposed City Charter would do away with all the expense of the publication of ordinances, resolutions, and other legal notices.

The adoption of the proposed charter would do nothing of the kind. Most of the notices which are published by the City are notices in connection with bond elections, bond sales, and street improvements, all of which are required to be published by state law, and which would still be required to be published if the Charter were adopted. It is very questionable if the provision of the Charter permitting the posting of notices, instead of the publication, is a legal provision as to any kind of notice, and certainly it would not hold as to most of the notices required to be published.

It is stated that the publication of a municipal gazette will be a great saving to the city. In order to publish a municipal gazette, a printing plant, of course, would be necessary. Such a plant would cost at least eight or ten thousand dollars. Then, after acquiring the plant, the city would have to hire a competent man or men to conduct it, and would have to buy supplies in the form of power, paper, ink, etc., and provide for the upkeep and maintenance of the plant. Ordinarily, the expense of legal advertising of this city amounts to four or five hundred dollars a year. Of course, during our recent spasm of bond elections, charter elections, publication of proposed charter, etc., we have expended an unusual amount of money for that purpose. But this condition happily is one that will not often prevail.

Then, an attempt is made to show that the proposed Charter will do away with the City Assessor, and thereby save the city more than $1400 per annum. The City Assessor does not dispense with the City Assessor, but makes provision for such an officer. It merely contains a clause similar to a clause contained in the provisions of the law relating to cities of the fifth class, by which the City Board of Trustees, or Commissioners, by proper resolution, may dispense with the City Assessor and cause the assessing to be done by the County Assessor. This can be done as well without the Charter as with it. But suppose it is done. We will then be confronted with this condition: The assessment of the property of the City by the city assessor is $638,125 greater than the assessment of the same property by the County Assessor. It requires all the money that can be raised upon the valuation fixed by the City Assessor to provide the necessary funds for conducting the city government. The maximum rate for taxes would be the same under the Charter as it is under the state law. Therefore, if the same rate were levied upon the property as assessed by the County Assessor, the city would fall short a good many hundred dollars of the amount necessary for meeting expenses, making necessary repairs, improvements, etc. If the county assessor were induced to raise his assessed valuation of the city property to an amount equal to that fixed by the city assessor, then we would pay with the same rate the same amount of city taxes, and, in addition to that, we would be compelled to pay about $7000 on state and county taxes which we do not now have to pay. In other words, in order to effect a saving of $1400, we would pay $7000. As the late Governor Cleveland would say, that is a condition and not a theory. Also it is well known that the present board of trustees long ago decided to dispense with the city assessor, as soon as it can be done to the advantage of the city.

Again, the statement which was published in the Register offsets against the amount to be paid out in salaries under the proposed charter, an equal amount which it is claimed the city will gain by the services of the mayor and commissioners. If that remarkable method of bookkeeping be correct, then we would better pay the proposed officers larger salaries, and thereby effect a larger gain for the city.

In the arguments regarding the proposed city charter, it is not claimed that our city government is not honestly or economically administered. The facts are that we can show more for the money we expend than our neighboring cities which have charter governments. In that our city is more economically conducted than are those cities so governed.

A long list of testimonials has been published from cities which have charter governments, and the assumption is made that they are all under the commission form of government. The fact is, many of them have not the commission form, any more than the proposed city charter would give to this city a commission form of government. The proposed charter has some features of the commission form; but, after all, it is only a sort of a hybrid form of city government which is neither one thing nor the other. It will be observed that the testimonials which have been published are from the mayors or other city officers of the city sending the testimonials, and it would be expected that the officials of such city governments would be biased in favor of their own administration. Undoubtedly, that is why some very absurd statements are made in these testimonials, and why they fail to state all of the facts.

For instance, the mayor of one of these cities assures us that within one month after the present administration took office, a large deficit had been wiped out and the city restored to a sound financial basis; and we are expected to draw the conclusion that the adoption of a city charter had effected that marvelous result.

If the proposed charter be adopted by the city of Santa Ana, the expense of the city government must be increased, because a much larger sum must be paid annually for salaries than is now paid; because a large number of ordinances at once must be passed and published in order to make effective various provisions of the charter; and under section 43 of the proposed charter, the commission will be required during the first year of its organization to publish in book form all of the ordinances of the city and the charter itself, together with all the provisions of the constitution and the laws of the state applicable to the city. The publication of that book would cost several thousand dollars. This added expense must be met by the collection of additional taxes. This year we have paid a larger amount of taxes than we ever paid before to the city, state and county. Next year we will have added to our tax burdens interest and sinking fund on account of county highway bonds and on account of county poor farm bonds, and we will commence the payment of the principal of the polytechnic high school bonds; also, we will begin to pay interest and sinking fund on the state good roads bonds; all of which will be in addition to that which we had to pay this year. Besides this, the state controller assures us that the state must collect in taxes about a million dollars more each year, and he is looking for property from which that amount can be collected.

Under these circumstances, a policy of strict economy is highly advisable; and since our present city government is eminently successful, since we can do anything under this government that is really worth doing which could be done if the charter were adopted, certainly it would seem to be inadvisable for our city to adopt the proposed charter.

The argument that it would be too bad to reject the charter since the proceedings leading up to the vote upon it will cost something over $4000, seems to me to be absurd. The proceedings should never have been begun; but the charter should not be adopted merely because they were

They are acknowledged by every one to be citizens of the highest integrity and business sagacity. Each of them has served the citizens of Santa Ana as members of the board of trustees. These six men with nine others of equally high character were selected to build the new Charter for Santa Ana. These six ex-City Trustees and framers of the new charter being perfectly familiar with all the details of the operations of our city under its present form of government, say the taxes should be no higher under the new charter than under its present form and that we would have a great many important advantages over our present system.

Now, add the names of ex-Trustees A. C. Black, D. L. Anderson, C. W. McNaught, J. Wiley Harris, all of whom are qualified to give an expert opinion, and W. L. Grubb, member of the present City Board of Trustees—all of them, after a careful study of the new charter and comparing it with their experiences while on the city board, in its operations under the state law, declare without reservation whatever in favor of the charter. Are there any citizens in our city as well qualified to pass upon its merits as these men? Would they wish to burden their neighbors and themselves with heavier taxes? These men without an exception we believe are large taxpayers, six of them have studied this charter from every angle, having spent many days and nights assisting in its construction. They say it will not increase your taxes and will give you a better government. Can you think of any reason why they would want to deceive you?

begun and a considerable expense thereby incurred.

There are many reasons why the present form of city government is preferable to that proposed by the charter which I have not space to enumerate; but from the standpoint of economy alone, it would seem that the taxpayers of our city should reject the charter and thereby refuse to enter into an experiment with something which would prove expensive, without furnishing anything better than we have at the present time.

Respectfully submitted,

CHRISTMAS REUNION

Annual Holiday Event in the Anderson-Collins Family Enjoyed Yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Anderson and son, Paul, with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bunker of Monrovia entertained the Anderson family at dinner, Christmas, at the residence of R. S. Anderson on East Tenth street. This day has become an annual pleasure, when relatives and friends from the East re-unite in social intercourse and reminiscences of old Ohio days. The after-dinner speeches included a letter from Mrs. Fred Stanley, nee Miss Isabel Collins, formerly of Santa Ana but now residing in Orlando, Florida. She suggested a unique postcard contest the object of which was to remember the correct titles of the cards. The prize, a toy Florida alligator, was won by Mr. J. E. Bunker. This caused a great deal of merriment.

The home was beautifully decorated. A great bunch of red poinsettias on the library table, carried out the Christmas colors. While in the other rooms, holly and plumoseus fern predominated.

Among the guests who enjoyed the hospitality yesterday were Mr. Ellis Elder of Caspar, Wyo., who arrived yesterday morning to visit his mother, Mrs. Julia Elder, and sisters, Carrie and Nancy. Also Miss Clara Thompson of Monrovia, niece of the J. E. Bunkers, were present. O. H. Anderson and family of Los Angeles came down for the day. The Santa Ana members of the Anderson family present were the C. C. Collins, D. L. Andersons, W. W. Andersons, Mrs. Julia Elder and two daughters, Carrie and Nancy, and Miss Mary Anderson, besides the hosts and hostesses, and family.

At the Youngs

A merry Christmas dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Young at their Grand avenue ranch home. The table was adorned with a tripod of gay candy canes lined with loops of red ribbon and in a bed of smilax was placed a silver dish, filled with the after-dinner mints.

Goose, with all its savory accessories was served, topped off with English plum pudding.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fine and family, Mrs. Olive Lopez and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schonberg of Balboa, Mrs. Mabel Young and Miss Louise Young.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus Visited Happy Assemblage After Good Program

The Christmas eve festivities at the First Methodist Episcopal church was one of genuine enjoyment to the members and teachers of the big Sunday school of that church and to those who had gathered to listen to the creditable program given under the able leadership of Mrs. Winbiger. One of the striking features of the evening was the sweet singing of the girls chorus, accompanied by the Sunday school orchestra under direction of Prof. Haynes. The choir filed in singing "Hark the Herald" to which strains the primary department also marched in later. The scene was one to awaken Christmas sentiment. A wide, cheerful fireplace with its big yuletide log, the Christmas bells, the holly and the greenery blended in a real holiday effect.

The excellent program consisted of an address by Superintendent McMath with Christmas as the theme; children exercises, readings and songs, interspersed with choruses and orchestra music. Then came a most pleasant surprise. From out the chimney opening appeared Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus—in miniature form who extended their usual greetings and helped to distribute good things to all. The generosity of the good-intruders was greeted with hearty welcome and made a happy ending to a happy evening.

Dinner and Tree

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bates had a family Christmas dinner and tree yesterday, twenty-five sitting down at the heavily-laden table served shortly after midday. The guests were treated to an old-fashioned turkey dinner with all the good things implied in that phrase. Red and green, the colors of the Yuletide were used in decoration. Those gathered about the table included the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Bates; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holman of Tustin, Messrs. and Mesdames A. L. Hardy and Claude Cochran of San Bernardino, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Schorer of Los Angeles; W. H. Bates of Santa Ana, Mrs. Ostrander of Saginaw, Mich., Mrs. R. L. Lockwood, Messrs. H. S. Lockwood and Chas. Martin, Donald Cochran, Willie Bates, Bertha Bates, Clarence and Clifford Bates.

After dinner the party adjourned, to the darkened basement where a beautifully adorned and lighted tree was heavily loaded with gifts. A joyous hour was spent there, and the remainder of the day was equally happy.

Had Guests at Christmas Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kellogg of 621 Orange Avenue entertained a number of their friends Christmas day at a sumptuous, turkey dinner, served at twelve o'clock. A large bowl of holly placed in the center of the table lent a cheerful festive air which was enhanced by the pretty holly-decked place cards. Covers were laid for the mother and sister of the host, Mrs. L. Kellogg and Miss Roseline Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kellogg and daughter, Miss Evelyn Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Morrow and Elsie, Ethel and Arthur Morrow.

Games and music were enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon.

CHRISTMAS, 1912

Many Happy Events Marked Most Joyous Season of the Closing Year

Yesterday morning dawned beautifully fair and the forenoon was as pleasant in temperature as could be wished, but towards noon a strong wind came up and rendered the rest of the day rather a chilly and disagreeable one out of doors. But in the many happy homes in Santa Ana, weather conditions made little difference, for joy and good cheer reigned supreme. Family reunions and gatherings of friends about festively decorated tables were features of the day. Some of the churches had postponed their Christmas festivities until last evening and the lights from the church windows spoke of the joyful scenes within. The Japanese Christians of the city marked the day by a Christmas tree and celebration at the Congregational church where Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man" was presented in dramatic form from a translation made by Mr. Fujita.

The day was a gala one indeed, and like all Christmas days, marked a red letter on the calendar of happy times in life.

One of the informal events of last evening was an assemblage at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Quick where about forty congenial self-invited people gathered for a Christmas tree and evening of merriment. After the tree had been robbed of its gifts, there was music and conversation and delicious refreshments and a good time altogether.

Besides celebrating at home many went to the beaches and to Los Angeles as well as other cities. Among those going to Los Angeles were Mrs. M. A. Menges and daughter Helen with Mrs. Cora Cavins and Miss Wilhelmina Cavins. They took Christmas dinner at the Lankershim, going later to a Ben Hur matinee.

Others at the Ben Hur matinee were W. E. Winslow and wife and V. E. Johnson and wife.

The High School Alumni dance was one of the pleasant affairs of last evening, about forty couples attending the affair which was held at the armory.

The Sweets Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sweet, 209 South Main street, were hosts at a family dinner party yesterday, their guests being their son-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bingham and child, of Spokane, Wash.; James Sweet and wife and sons, Bryan and Lucius, and daughter, Abbie, of Fairmont, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Gubel, of west of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Sweet and daughter, Lois; Mrs. Ethel Jones, Mrs. Luella Stewart and daughter, Dorothy, of Repon, who are visiting her for the winter.

Bountiful Dinner

Mesdames W. C. Bryant and T. B. Tyerman were hostesses at a bountiful prepared Christmas dinner at the Bryant home.

Poinsettias and smilax adorned the table as a centerpiece, while asparagus fern and Christmas bells were in abundance in the parlors.

Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Tyerman were the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Will Doak of Keithsburg, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McCord of Aleo, Ill., and Mr. Charles Bice of Los Angeles.

At the Yingling's

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Yingling entertained with a Christmas dinner at their home on East Walnut street. The dining room was beautifully festooned in red and green while Christmas flowers occupied the center of the table. Honey and asparagus fern helped to beautify the parlor, while Christmas bells encircled with wreaths of smilax adorned the windows.

Christmas place cards marked plates at the table for the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Yingling; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Runyon, Mrs. Martha Runyon, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bice, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Baker and son Clark, all of this city, and Mr. Elias Baker of Paw Paw, Ill.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE AT CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH

Christmas services were held yesterday morning at the Church of the Messiah. The members of the choir wore their newly-acquired vestments and presented a very attractive spectacle as they sang the processional hymn, "O Come all Ye Faithful," while they marched down the center aisle of the church. The choir also beautifully rendered the Christmas anthem, "O Zion That Bringest Good Tidings" (Stainer). Mrs. James S. Rice also sang a selected solo.

The pastor, Rev. Rufus S. Chase, preached a splendid sermon which was appropriate to the occasion. The sacrament of the Holy Communion was administered at the early morning service, held at 7:30 and also after the Christmas service at 10.

The body of the church was tastefully decorated with evergreens, the chancel with plumoseus fern, the brass vases of the altar being filled with poinsettias and red geraniums, the whole lending a very attractive and Christmasy air to the services.

On request the choir will render the Christmas music again at the morning service next Sunday. There will be no regular choir rehearsal this evening.

LANGFORD WINS FIGHT SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 26.—Sam Langford knocked out Sam McVey in the thirteenth round of a scheduled twenty-round battle after the most vicious fight in Australia for many months.

McVey had the advantage until the fourth round when Langford floored him with a succession of lefts and rights to the body. Thereafter McVey made a plucky losing fight until the thirteenth round when he was beaten to the floor in a fusillade of blows, and was unable to rise. Both men were in excellent condition.

Music and the Drama

(By HERMAN REUTER.)

In "The Call of the Wilderness" Tuesday night at the Grand the repertoire company gave us a shock of pleasant surprise. The acting with one exception was well done. This was due to the fact that the actors had better, more sympathetic material to work with than was the case with "A Loyal Wife" which was used Monday evening. "The Call of the Wilderness" is an early piece by one of America's most original and clear-minded dramatists and though melodramatic, in effect still is of the artistic, sane variety.

Mr. Joe Detrick as William McDonald, the builder of railroads, availed himself of the many opportunities the part gave him to show us a life-like characterization. He justified the confidence he aroused in us the evening before. The McDonald he gave us was a veritable wolf in human form—a cold, relentless hunter of women. He made us hate him and at the same time respect him. All this he did naturally, without the aid of the conventional black mustache, the sardonic villainous laugh and all the rest of the paraphernalia of those who act with their mouths and not with their brains.

Lois Bolton has an entirely winsome personality. Her work was also much better than the night before. As Hil-da she proved to us that she could rise to a climax of emotion in a manner superior to many actresses of much greater reputation.

There are many people drawing large salaries in the stock theaters throughout the country who are not as clever and capable by half as are Mr. Detrick and Miss Bolton.

Another piece of real acting which gave delight was the work of Robert Buchanan as Andrew McFavish. I say real acting advisedly. It is the rule in America for actors to be given only one particular kind of part. The public, accustomed to seeing a certain actor in a certain part, refuses to see him in anything different. The actor must continue to play one kind of character, for which he is physically and temperamentally suited, year in and year out. The player, no matter how versatile he may be, is given no opportunity to broaden out and to do something entirely new. He has no chance, in short to act. Mr. Buchanan did his own personality and became the stern, ascetic, Scotchman, McFavish. His dialect was well carried out.

George Hampton as Baptiste, and George Wilson as George Huntley, were satisfactory. I would suggest, though, that Messrs. Hampton and Wilson use a little, just a little, more effort to get under the shell of the characters they play. J. C. Burton was hopelessly miscast as Jules Beaubien. Mr. Burton lacks the ability to speak French-Canadian dialect. It must be remembered that the success by the actors Tuesday night was attained in spite of a small audience. It is not difficult to imagine how disappointing a task it is to play to row after row of empty seats.

If the players adhere to the standard set Tuesday night, and there is every reason to believe that they will, the theater-goers should have no hesitancy in attending. Such a play as "The Call of the Wilderness" deserves a crowded house. Bear in mind that the larger the crowd, the better the play!

Last night "The Gentleman and the Thief" was played in an acceptable way at the opera house. It was in many ways the best performance that the repertoire company has given us.

In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George W. Place, Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Nearly 100 Children

The Salvation Army

There were signs of activity and something doing at the Salvation Army Hall yesterday. As a result of the effort made by the captain and his co-workers during the last few days for the benefit of the children in Santa Ana who do not attend a Sunday school, and who are thus deprived of the usual treats given those who do, nearly one hundred children were gathered together and were first given a spread of cake, fruit, milk, candy, bread and butter, coffee, etc., after which an interesting program was given by the officers and junior soldiers. At the conclusion Santa Claus appeared, and the distribution of the gifts to every child present commenced. Great was the excitement and loud the appreciation among the youngsters for all the good things provided for them, and for over three hours their attention was very much taken up, either by eating or the entertainment and Santa Claus; and all those who had worked so arduously were well repaid for all they had done, by the many thankful expressions received from the little ones.

Capt. Sochon wishes to take this opportunity of thanking the kind friends of Santa Ana for the way in which this entertainment and also for the many dinners he was enabled to send out on Thanksgiving day. He only wishes it were possible for him to convey to the many who have helped, the expression of thanks received from those who are helped.

NEW NUMBERS TO BE IN USE AFTER TOMORROW EVENING

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company is to change its numbering system. Manager Morrow states that the new numbering system will be in operation Friday night, December 27. The delivery of the new directory will be commenced Friday.

An entire change of numbers has been made, so far as party lines are concerned. Black 4771, for instance, will be hereafter 6,7-W, pronounced six-seventeen party W.

Main, Black and Red as a prefix have been abolished. This new numbering system has been found to facilitate the work in the operating department, as it dispenses with the duplication of numbers in Main, Black and Red, the "letter" tells the operator this as well as the number of rings. This system has been adopted by all other important cities on the Pacific coast.

All these numbers are new to the operators as well as to the subscribers. The girls will have their troubles for several days. The new Orange County Pacific phone directory shows a total of 4511 subscribers of "the Pacific system," the Santa Ana exchange has 1868 subscribers.

The Orange county directory is the second largest in Southern California, outside of Los Angeles county.

Parcel Post Is Operated On Unit System With 8 Zones

Any One Can Learn Postage Rates by Figuring Out Distance From Postoffice.

Country Is Mapped Out With 3,500 Units--Government Sells Guides Cheaply.

BEGINNING New Year's day at 6 a. m. the new parcel post law permits any inhabitant of the United States to send through the mail merchandise of all descriptions, provided it does not weigh more than eleven pounds and is not more than six feet in combined length and girth. One point the postmaster general wishes emphasized and that is that all packages have to be taken to the postoffice by the sender, and this doesn't mean the numbered subdivisions ordinarily found in drug stores but the regular postoffice stations.

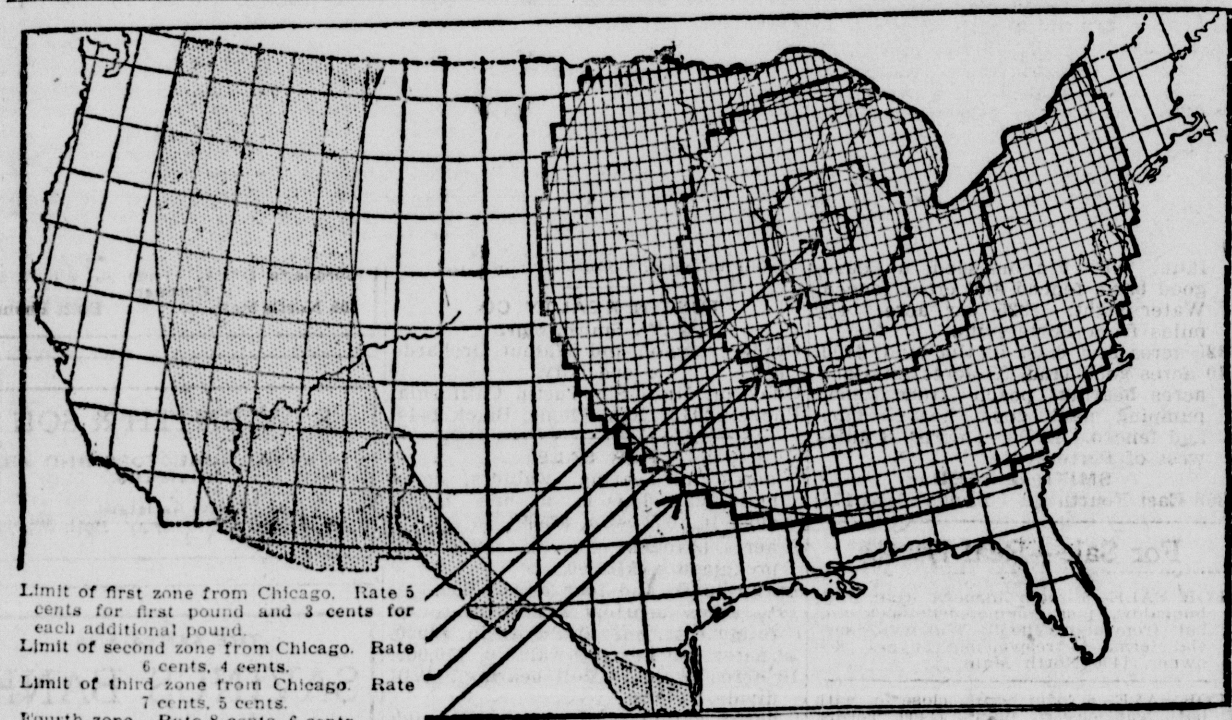

The packages will be delivered at their destination in wagons, the deliveries being as regular as the present letter service.

At present the number of men in the postal service has not been increased. Such a step is considered unnecessary at present. The postoffice department has been working overtime since last July, when congress passed the law, preparing for the inauguration of the new service. Twenty thousand of the most delicate and intricate scales have been ordered for delivery before Jan. 1.

A most elaborate system of maps has been completed, inaugurating a zone system. There are eight different zones. Upon the maps are depicted various units in each zone. Every town is situated in a numbered unit, shown upon the map. The first zone is any distance within fifty miles. The second zone is a greater distance, and so on until the last zone, which takes in Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, but not the Philippines.

HOLDS BEADS FOR REWARD

Letter Received States That Jewelry Lost Here is Held at Bridgeport, Conn.

Somebody by the name of Hammer Roberts back in Bridgeport, Conn., has a necklace of gold beads lost by Mrs. Cora B. Cavins of Santa Ana in the accident that occurred during a performance of Barnum & Bailey's circus in Santa Ana last September. Mrs. Cavins was one of those who were on the portion of the grandstand that gave way, and in the mix-up she lost the gold beads and a bracelet. Nothing has been heard of the whereabouts of the bracelet. News of the gold beads was contained in the following letter received today by the Register:

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 21, 1912.
"Dear Sirs:—Will you notify the owner who lost those gold beads at the Barnum & Bailey shows if the owner wants them, please let me know at once and what the reward for them, and the owner will return them at the reward. Notify Hammer Roberts, 35 Bank St., Bridgeport, Conn., care of Wilson.

"Be sure answer at once before they will be sold."

Bridgeport is the winter quarters of the circus.

It is thought that the piece of jewelry was picked up by someone connected with the circus, and that it has been held until now, perhaps when the person who has it has finished the season with the circus.

Mrs. Cavins stated this morning that she would take the matter up with her attorney. No reward was ever offered. So far as can be learned here none of those who were injured in the fall of the circus grandstand has received damages from the circus.

The settlement with local claimants has been the subject of a number of letters written here from the East. The last heard from Mr. Cook, who represented the circus, was about Nov. 20, stating that he would be here in a few days.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE TO HOLD DEFENDANT

On Tuesday Justice Cox dismissed the case against L. Galtan, stating that he did not consider the evidence strong enough to hold Galtan for trial in the superior court. The two principal witnesses against the defendant were Deputy Sheriff Law and Constable Heard. Under Sheriff
Squires would have been a witness had he not been killed.

The prosecution asserted that Galtan attempted to assist two Spaniards who got into a mix-up on Lincoln street about a month ago to escape.
The officers went to Galtan's place, and soon after Galtan returned home the two men who were wanted came out of his back yard.

Several witnesses testified in Galtan's favor, stating that he was industrious and reliable.

Notice of Meeting of Stockholders of the Southern County Bank
Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the stockholders of the Southern County Bank, a corporation, will be held on Thursday the 26th day of December, 1912, at the hour of 3:30 o'clock p. m., at the Banking Chamber of the Southern County Bank, southwest corner of East Center and Claudia streets, in the City of Anaheim, Orange County, California, the same being the principal place of business of this corporation, and the building where the Board of Directors usually meets.

The purposes of said meeting are to consider the question of the increase of capital stock of said corporation from $25,000 to $75,000.

To consider an amendment to the Articles of Incorporation of said corporation, providing for the increase of the number of directors of said corporation from nine to thirteen.

By order of the Board of Directors,
A. W. PHELPS,
Secretary of the Southern County Bank.
Dated October 25, 1912.

FACTS! NOT THEORIES

Following is the amount of taxes paid by the City of Santa Ana in addition to city taxes for the year 1912-13:

For State purposes	$ 2,543.06
For County School purposes	13,871.22
High School special	58,952.69
Grammar school special	24,852.60
Salary of county officers	6,357.64
Hospital purposes	5,201.70
County park purposes	288.98
Immigration purposes	1,733.90
Interest and bonds, county purposes	3,814.59
Current expense (miscellaneous)	26,875.49

Total .....$144,491.87

In addition to this amount Santa Ana will next year pay its proportion of the County Good Roads Bonds, an interest, which will be $14,450. The first of the Polytechnic High School bonds, which call for $5000 per annum, will also be paid next year.

Under the deficiency in the state tax, through the operation of Amendment No. 1, Santa Ana will also fall heir next year to an extra tax which is conservatively estimated in the neighborhood of $10,000. Amendment No.
1 was beautiful in theory, but sickeningly short on results.

Our proposed new charter is overflowing with THEORIES. We are told that the "commissioners" CAN do this and CAN do that. Nobody knows who they will be, much less what they will do. We KNOW that the salary roll of the city would be several thousand dollars higher than it is now. We KNOW that the publication in book form of all the ordinances and state laws required under it will cost a couple of thousand or so more.
We KNOW that the publication of all the new ordinances required under the charter will cost a good deal of real money. We KNOW that under such a wholesale patronage system as would be inaugurated under the charter the city's expenses generally would be very LIABLE to be IN-CREASED rather than DIMINISHED. These things we are telling you are FACTS, NOT THEORIES.
